"One of the scarcest of the State histories. Unfortunately, unfinished; the history stops at 1785." Sabin.

"Although the title indicates the intention to bring the history down to the date of publication, the narrative is suspended with the declaration of peace in 1783. Both volumes are devoted largely to the history of the border warfare with the Creeks and Cherokees. Numerous incidents relating to the savages of these nations and their sanguinary attacks upon the frontiers, with sketches of their chiefs and of the loyalist refugees who led them are narrated. These were derived in many instances directly from the lips of some of the survivors of these bloody scenes, from manuscripts or from printed documents, no longer accessible to the student of history." Field.

3222. ———. A History of the Townships of Byberry and Moreland, in Philadelphia, Pa. From their earliest settlement by the whites to the present time. By Joseph C. Martindale, M.D. New and revised edition, edited by Albert W. Dudley, B.S. Illustrated. Philadelphia: George W. Jacobs. 8vo, pp. 416.*

"An excellent history of one of the most interesting regions lying adjacent to the city of Philadelphia, really within its limits but not within those of the connectedly built up district. In addition to the usual topics of local history, the work contains quite a number of biographical sketches of men who resided in the two townships; genealogies of the Bolton, Carver, Comly, Duffield, Gilbert, Knight, Martindale, Saurman, Thornton, Walmsley, Tomlinson, Shearer, and Worthington families; chapters upon the topographical, genealogical, and mineralogical features of the district, and one upon its villages, while there is an extensive index to the whole. Byberry (settled first in 1675 by the Walton family, who named it in honor of their native town, near Bristol, England) had considerable history before the coming of William Penn, and this, together with the annals of the early post-Penn period, very properly forms a large portion of the book. The coming of the Friends, the gradual growth of the settlement, and the founding of its local institutions follow in order. It is to be noted that among other noted men of Byberry was Dr. Benjamin Rush, signer of the Declaration of Independence and father of American medicine, born in the southern part of the township in 1745, a descendant of one of Penn's fellow-voyagers of 1682." Leary Catalog.

4 pp advertisements of books. In this copy the map is placed after Contents. The two leaves of adv'ts are at the end of the book. There is no errata.

"A leaf of 'Books printed for Thomas Parkhurst' sometimes precedes the title page, and another leaf of advertisements follows the text. The map is often wanting, or supplied by a facsimile lithographed by Messrs. Day & Sons. There are copies on large paper." Sabin.

In 1906 Dodd, Mead & Co. offered a copy for sale at $625, with the following description:

A large paper copy, the leaf measuring 14½ by 8⅞ inches. The Brinley copy, measuring 13½ by 8¼ inches, was called by Mr. Trumbull "a magnificent copy."

The two leaves of Errata, printed probably in Boston after Mather had received copies of the book from London, are excessively rare. In fact, so far as we can trace, no other copy on large paper with genuine errata has been offered for sale.

Mather's heading to his errata list begins as follows:

"The Holy Bible, itself, in some of its editions hath been affronted, with Scandalous Errors of the Press-work; and in one of them they so Printed those Words, Psal. 119, 161. Printers have persecuted me. The Author of this Church History has all the Reason in the World then to be Patient, tho' his work, be depraved with many Errors of the Press-work. The common Excuse, in such cases is, the Distance of the Author from the Press. Here was the distance of a thousand Leagues," etc.

This copy has both leaves of advertisements. It is probable that one leaf only was intended to be inserted in each copy."

"To those who are interested in the early history of our country it may be well to remark, that for accuracy in historical occurrances they will do well to rely upon other authorities, but if they wish to obtain a general view of the state of society and manners, they will probably nowhere find so many materials for this purpose as in the work of this pedantic and garrulous writer." Strong Catalog.

"A Piece of uncommon rarity. Reprinted in the Andros Tracts, II." Sabin.

3386. MATHER, INCREASE. A | Brief History | of the | Warr | With the Indians in | Nevv-England. | (From June 24, 1675, when the first English-man was mur- | dered by the Indians, to August 12, 1676. when Philip, alias | Metacomet, the principal Author and Beginner | of the Warr, was slain.) | Wherein the Grounds, Beginning and Progress of the Warr, | is summarily expressed. | Together with a serious | Exhortation | to the Inhabitants of that Land, | By Increase Mather, Teacher of a Church of | Christ, in Boston in New England. | Quotations 8 lines. | Boston: Printed and Sold by John Foster over | against the Sign of the Dove. 1676. 4to, pp. (6), 51, (8); (4), 26.*

"An 'Earnest Exhortation,' has a separate title page and paging. Mather was stimulated to this literary labor by the knowledge that his reverend brother, Wm. Hubbard, was engaged upon a similar work. Indeed the two treatises were probably almost simultaneously passing through the press of John Foster. Mr. Drake observes: 'When it is considered that the war was not ended until the autumn of 1676, the year in which it was printed, it must be apparent to every reader that the work was a hurried performance.' In his preface Mather exhibits a trace of acerbity when he asserts: 'This following relation was written neer upon a year ago; since which a reverend author hath emitted a narrative of the troubles which happened by the Indians; . . . nevertheless . most of the things here insisted on are not so much as once taken notice of in that narrative.' Of this exceedingly rare book two copies only are known, Mr. Brinley's copy and one in England." Sabin.

The London edition of 1676 is a reprint.

Title page surrounded by two border lines, verso blank: 4 pp., "To the Reader," signed "Increase Mather," headpiece of three lines, one line of fine border pieces, a rule, and line of similar pieces; 1-51, "A Brief | History | of the | VVarre | vvith the Indians in | Nevv-England," line of Greek at the end between two rules, large ornamental headpiece; 1 p. blank; 1-8, "Postscript," same headpiece as at the beginning of the Preface, list of "Errata," five lines, at the foot of page 8; running headlines, followed by "An Earnest Exhortation." Green.

"No epithet can be too strong to characterize the scarcity of the one introuvable which so long escaped the search of American collectors; so rare, that Prince did not secure it for his New England Library, though he could pick up half a dozen Bay Psalm Books; so rare that S. G. Drake, the most indefatigable and successful of collectors, could not find it for his reprint in 1862, and was obliged to copy even his title page from the London edition; and so rare that Mr. Sabin himself when noting the fact (in the Menzies Catalogue) that 'the New England edition is not mentioned by Lowndes, nor elsewhere, so far as we have been able to ascertain,' makes the reluctant admission that 'perhaps no copy of it exists.'" Brinley.

Sold: Brinley, 1879, original marble paper wrapper, clean, fine order, 260.00; Brinley, 1879 (copy has leaf preceding title page, with half title in large type, "The Wars of New England." The Serious Exhortation, though named in the title, is not given in this edition), clf, extra, large copy, 26.00; Brayton Ives, 1891, hlf russ, 77.50; Brinley, 1881, incomplete copies sold as two,in 3 vols (for notes see Brinley, No. 5531), 130.00; Barlow, 1890, levt mo, extra, glt, by Bedford, one leaf in facsim, 2 others partly in facsimile, 72.50; Barlow, 1890, Earnest Exhortation and Brief History, Boston, 1676, in 1 vol, hlf rus, top margins cropped, 37.50.

3387. ———. A Brief | History | of the War | with the | Indians | in | New-England. | From June 24, 1675, (when the first English-man was Murder- | ed by the Indians) to August 12, 1676, when Philip, | alias Metacomet, the principal Author and | Beginner of the War, was slain. | Wherein the Grounds, Beginning, and Progress of the War, is summarily | expressed. Together with a serious Exhortation to | Inhabitants of that Land. | By Increase Mather, Teacher of a Church of | Christ, in Boston in New-England. | . . . | (Texts 5 lines, 3 1 from Horace.) London, Printed for Richard Chiswell, at the Rose and Crown in St. Pauls | Church-Yard, according to the Original Copy Printed | in New-England. 1676. 4to, pp. (8), 51, (1), 8.

"The 'Serious Exhortation,' though named in the title, is not given in this edition. The preface refers to John Eliot as 'this now aged servant of the Lord.' Extremely rare." Sabin.

"Lowndes quotes this book as having only occurred for sale at Puttick's in 1859. The New England edition is not mentioned by him, nor elsewhere so far as we have been able to ascertain. Perhaps no copy of it exists." Menzie's Catalog.

Sold: Roche, 1867, clf, glt, by W. Pratt, 35.00.

Priced by Dodd, Mead & Co., in 1906, at $200, and thus noted:

"This is one of the 'Andros Tracts,' and seems to be extremely rare, even Brinley, with all his Mathers, lacking it, apparently. This copy contains a leaf of advertisement at end not called for in Sabin's collation, nor in that of the Carter-Brown Catalogue."

The book contains this mention of Harvard College:

"And indeed New England, hath upon the best accounts which can be mentioned, out done all America.

"For there they have erected an University, which began in the year 1642, wherein things are managed pro more Academiarum in Anglia: Several Persons of more than ordinary Learning; yea, and many scores of able Ministers, of the Gospel have there had their education."

memozien Door I. A. G. W. C. | Antwerpen. | Tot Francoys van Duynen: 1649. Sm 4to, pp. 24.

"One of the rarest volumes connected with the old province of New Netherland, as the State of New York was called while the Dutch held it. To a New York collector, the Breedenraet, the Beschryvinge of 1651, and the two editions of Vander Donck, are indispensable; they must form the primary elements of any library which pretends to illustrate the history of the State." Quaritch.

Priced by Quaritch at £28.

(Trans. of title: Homely Advice to the United Netherlandish Provinces. Made and arranged from divers true and trusty memoirs.)

"This excessively rare pamphlet is, no doubt, the most important document existing on New Netherland. Its importance was discovered by Mr. Asher in ransacking in 1849 my 20 to 25,000 pamphlets. See on it at large, Asher's Essay, pp. 183-200. It was entirely translated by Mr. H. C. Murphy and printed at the expense of Mr. J. Lenox, but not put into commerce." F. Müller.

"The Breeden Raest, literally Broad Advice, is a technical term meaning the Ship's Council of officers and others constituted on board ship to advise in case of danger or other emergency. The author of this book has adopted the form of a dialogue of such a council to show the misconduct of the Dutch West India Company, especially in New Netherland, and for that purpose introduces as interlocutors ten persons, consisting of a Portuguese soldier in the service of the Company, the captain of the ship, a Swedish student, a Spanish barber, a French merchant, a Neapolitan, a German gentleman, a poor English nobleman, a boatswain and a Polander. With these men as spokesmen the agents and officers of the Dutch West India Company in Brazil and in New Netherland, are arraigned, particularly the directors Kieft and Stuyvesant. In fact, the pamphlet appears to have been gotten up by Cornelis Melyn, the patroon of Staten Island, who had been tried for treason and condemned to an exile of seven years, by Stuyvesant upon the complaint of Kieft." Murphy Catalog.

The Vertoogh van Nieu Nederland of Van der Donck and the Breeden Raedt were translated by Henry C. Murphy and published in New York in 1854. One hundred and twenty-five copies were printed.

Asher thinks it was not written by Melyn. See Asher: p. 200.

Miller's New York; verso. Of this edition four hundred copies have been printed, and the type distributed. This is No. —; title; verso, copyright; dedication; verso, blank; Introduction, pp. 13; (bibliography 5 p. in introduction); Miller's New York Anno Domini, 1695. Published from the original MS in the British Museum; verso blank; New York Considered and Improved Anno Dni., 1695; verso blank; dedication, 3 p. 1 p. blank, facsimile of first page of Miller's Ms.; folding plans of New York, Albany, The Fort of New York, history 78 p., appendices 10 p., Index 10 p.

John Miller was sent to New York as chaplain to two companies of foot, and he reached that city in June, 1692. He was recognized as a man of ability. He was the sole officiating Episcopal clergyman in the entire Province of New York from 1792 to 1795, when he sailed for England. On the voyage the ship was captured by a French privateer. Miller threw overboard all his valuable notes and sketches previous to the capture. He was taken as prisoner to France, where he wrote his History of New York. He returned to England in 1696. In some way the MSS of the History passed from the custody of the Bishops of London to the hands of Mr. George Chalmers, antiquary and historian. When his library was sold by Messrs. Evans, in 1842, the MSS was in the last day's sale, and is entered in the auction catalogue as follows: "1718. America. H. Miller's New Yorke described and Improved. With two Plans, Drawings. Dedicated to Henry (Compton) Bp. London."

It was bought by Thomas Rodd, a London bookseller and publisher, who had it printed in a small edition in 1843. He did not print verbatim, but modernized and amended until the sense was greatly altered. Rodd's text was followed in the Gowan edition. In 1903 Messrs. Burrows Brothers issued an edition in which the text of the original manuscript in the British Museum was followed verbatim et literatim from a transcript prepared under the supervision of B. F. Stevens and Brown of London. See Burrows Bros.' edition, p. 20.

John G. Whittier's History of Haverhill.

"That this rare town history was written by Whittier is not generally known, nor mentioned, in 'Bierstadt's Bibliography of Whittier' or 'Foley's First Editions of American Authors.'

"The following advertisement appeared in the Haverhill Gazette, March 27, 1830: 'ADVERTISEMENT. The subscriber proposes to publish a history of Haverhill, from its first settlement in 1640 to the present time. He trusts that the citizens of his native town will approve of the proposal and he pledges himself that no pains on his part will be spared to render the work worthy of their acceptance. The price will be 87½ cents in case the number of pages does not exceed two hundred. If, however, the material of history should swell the volume beyond this number of pages, the price will be $1.00. JOHN G. WHITTIER.'

"Also in the same paper the same day appears an editorial written by Whittier, calling the attention of readers to the advertisement." Manson Catalog.

The editorial referred to above is:

"By reference to our advertising columns our readers will perceive that we have issued proposals for publishing a history of this town, from its early settlement in 1640. Our present situation affords us an ample opportunity for a thorough examination of the town records, and for obtaining such information connected with the early history of the town as may be necessary for the accomplishment of our design. We ask countenance of our friends and neighbors in this undertaking, not as a sacrifice on their part, believing that any favor they may be disposed to afford us will be fully repaid by a connected history of the place of their nativity."

"As the history of Haverhill was not known to Foote, Bierstadt or Roos, no copy naturally was included in their collections. The only copy sold at auction of which there is a record was George Brinley's, which fetched $3.00 in March, 1879. It was number 1840 in the sale catalogue and was in the original boards. The cataloguer attributed the book to 'Mirick.'" N. Y. Times, Book Review, Jan. 14, 1899.

Notwithstanding the assertion of the Book Review, this book has appeared in the catalogues of a number of sales. In each of the following sales, belonging to the period before the real author was known, the book is catalogued under Haverhill, and the author is given as B. L. Mirick.

Of a copy sold at the Whittier sale in 1903 the following was written: "A large portion of the work was written by Mr. Whittier, who when he left Haverhill for Hartford, turned his manuscript over to Mr. Mirick, who gave him no credit for it, and did not even send him a copy of the book. This copy bears the inscription on a fly leaf: 'To William L. Garrison, from his friend, the author.' Mr. Garrison sent it to Mr. Whittier, who, in his indignation, tore out the title-page, the only place where Mirick's name appeared. Mr. Whittier has written on a fly leaf: 'History of Haverhill, 1739. See H. Talent.'" Whittier Catalog, 1903.

Hugh Tallent was the first Irish resident of Haverhill.

MISSOURI.

The compiler and publishers wish to acknowledge their great indebtedness for the assistance of the distinguished literateur, Mr. William Clark Breckenridge, of St. Louis, Mo., who has at very considerable outlay of personal time and trouble furnished the titles of most of the books on Missouri recorded in this work. Mr. Breckenridge, from his extensive private library, has been kind enough to make verbatim titles of many books that otherwise must have been omitted. Many of these titles are entered under this heading of Missouri, and the others may be found under the name of their author. Mr. Breckenridge's library is probably one of the most complete on the subject of Missouri history of any in existence, and contains titles that could not have been obtained elsewhere. We thank him for his courtesy.

Cambridge: Printed by S(amuel) G(reen) and M(armaduke) J(ohnson) for John Vsher of Boston, 1669. 4to, pp. (12), 198, (10).*

"The Address to the Reader is signed John Higginson. Thomas Thacher. Concerning the extreme rarity of the first edition of this important work, it will be sufficient to remark that we know of but three perfect copies in the United States. The last five leaves. A Brief Chronological Table,' are often wanting. Morton's Memorial is a work of high authority and is confined chiefly to Plymouth Colony. It was compiled principally from MSS. of his uncle, William Bradford, and comprises the period between 1620 and 1646. The Journals of Edward Winslow also furnished materials for the work." J. R. Bartlett.

"This book is one of those commonly referred to as 'the corner-stone' of the early history of New England, and its accurate and full account of transactions there from 1620 to 1668 justify its claim to that title. It is excessively rare." Ives Catalog.

3715. MORTON, THOMAS. New English Canaan | or | New Canaan. | Containing an Abstract of New England, | Composed in three Bookes. | The first Booke setting forth the originall of the Natives, their | Manners and Customes, together with their tractable Nature and | Love towards the English. | The second Booke setting forth the naturall Indowments of the | Country, and what staple Commodities it | yealdeth. | The third Booke setting forth, what people are planted there, | their prosperity, what remarkable accidents have happened since the first | planting of it, together with their Tenents and practise | of their Church. | Written by Thomas Morton, of Clifford's Inne gent, upon tenne | yeares knowledge and experiment of the | Country.| Printed at Amsterdam.| By Jacob Frederick Stam. | In the yeare 1637. | 4to, pp. 188, (3).*

"A book of such rarity that Mr. Frederik Müller, the eminent bookseller of Amsterdam, remarks: 'Although this book is printed in my native place, Amsterdam, I have never seen nor heard of it here.' It is interspersed with poems by various authors, including one by Ben Jonson, not published in his works. Its author, who appears to have possessed a jovial and somewhat roystering temperament, found himself ill associated with the puritanical founders of New England. There is more than a little bibliographical uncertainty about this book. In the first place the catalogue of the so-called Mondidier collection gives the imprint, Printed for W. S. Stansby for Rob. Blount, 1625, while Peter Force's reprint gives the imprint, Printed by Charles Green, 1632; whereas the book itself relates events sequent to that date (1632); and never having met the book except with the Amsterdam imprint, I content myself with the remark that I suppose that the other titles are erroneous, and a careful examination of the work inclines me to coincide with Mr. Duyckinck, in his remark, 'that although the book professes to have been printed at Amsterdam, it was probably executed in London.' Peter Force has probably copied White Kennett's catalogue, and the Mondidier copy had a MS. title which may have been incorrectly copied. Allen remarks that Morton 'fell into great licentiousness and became the lord of misrule;' he supplied the Indians with arms, that they might hunt for him, and was by this means, perhaps, an instrument in endangering the safety of the colonies.' . . . Morton returned to the colonies after the publication of his book and was imprisoned in Boston for a year." Sabin.

Reprint in Force's Tracts, 2, 5.

"Morton was a lawyer who came to Boston with Weston's company in 1622. He appears to have been of a jovial, roistering disposition and quite out of place among the Puritan founders of New England. Speaking of his associates he says they were very popular with the settlers as long as their liquor lasted and were turned adrift afterwards. He was unjustly charged with employing the Indians to hunt for him, furnishing them with arms and ammunition. The colonists caused him to be arrested. He escaped, but on the arrival of Gov. Winthrop, in 1630, he was again arrested, convicted and sent to England and his house demolished, 'that it might no longer be a roost for such unclean birds.' In 1643 he returned, and was fined and imprisoned a year on account of his scandalous book." Murphy Catalog.

"The fourth part is signed R. C. Mourt's Relation is the chief corner-stone of a New England library. It had become so rare that the reprint made for the Mass. Hist. Society was made from a transcript not quite perfect." Sabin.

"The excessive rarity and intrinsic value of the Pilgrim Fathers are well known, and the narrative . . . is the first record of the history of New England. There was no copy in the magnificent library of Mr. Brinley, nor has the book appeared in any of the sales for a great number of years. The book is indeed so rare that the reprint made for the Mass. Hist. Society was done from the transcript of a transcript, not quite perfect; although it was completed in a later volume on the discovery of the only one known to be existent in America." Quaritch.

Priced by Quaritch, 1886, £48.

"The name Mourt (or Morton, as has been suggested) is simply that of an editor. The Relation, 'writ by several actors themselves, after their plain and rude manner,' is in seven separate narratives, only the last two of which are signed, one by E. W., the other by R. C. (Winslow and Cushman). They are preceded by 'Certaine useful Advertisements' sent to the pilgrims at their setting out, signed by I. R.; and the two preliminary leaves which follow the title are 'To his much respected Friend, Mr. L. P., signed by R. G., and 'To the Reader,' signed by G. Mourt—the only place where this name appears. The doughty deeds of Captain Miles Standish were first made known by this Relation." Quaritch.

"Mourt's Relation is another of those books usually catalogued as the chief corner-stone of a library of Americana, and as it is one of the earliest accounts of New England history, it is not easy to overestimate its importance. But its value is not greater than the difficulty of procuring the book in good condition. It was evidently very popular at the time of its publication and received careless usage. Not one thoroughly good copy has been offered for sale here, either at auction or by dealers, for twenty years. The present is an unusually clean copy, but the top of the title page has been cut so close as to eliminate the initial A." Ives' Catalog.

Sabin enters the 1865 edition under William Bradford, who was presumably an Editor.

3779. NEAL, DANIEL. The History of New-England, Containing an Impartial Account of the Civil and Ecclesiastical Affairs of the Country to the Year of our Lord 1700. To which is added the Present State of New-England. With a new and accurate Map of the Country, and an Appendix Containing their Present Charter, their Ecclesiastical Discipline, and their Municipal Laws. London: J. Clark, 1720. 2 vols. 8vo, pp. (2), vi, x, (2), 330; (4), 331-712, Index, xv. Map.

"Governor Hutchinson says this is little more than an abridgement of Mather's Magnalia. Thomas Prince says: In 1720 came out Mr. Neal's History of New England, which I was glad to see, and pleased with both his spirit, style and method. And though he has fallen into many mistakes which are commonly known to us, some of which he seems to derive from Mr. Oldmixon's New England, yet, considering the materials this worthy writer was confined to, and that he was never here, it seems to me scarce possible that any under his disadvantages should form a better. In comparing him with the authors from which he draws, I am surprised to see the pains he has taken to put the materials in such a regular order. And to me it seems as if many parts of his work can not be mended." Chronology of New England.

3844. New England's Ensigne; it being the account of Cruelty, the Professor's Pride, and the articles of their faith; signified in characters written in blood, wickedly begun, barbarously continued and inhumanly finished (so far as they have gone) by the present power of a darkness possest in the priests and rulers in New England, with the Dutch also, inhabiting the same land; in a bloody and cruel birth, which the husband to the Whore of Babylon hath brought forth, by ravishing and torturing the seed of the Virgin of Israel. Happy are they who are blest out of the hands of Hypocrites, by whom my Savour suffered, as it is said in David: Behold, and see, our hands, our sides, and our ears, if we be not the people of Christ Jesus suffers in. This being an account of the sufferings sustained by us in New England (with the Dutch), the most part of it in these two last yeers, 1657, 1658. With a letter to John Indicot, and John Norton, Governor, and the Chief Priest of Boston, and another to the town of Boston. Also the several late Conditions of a friend upon Road, Island, before, in, and after distraction; With some quaeries unto all sorts of people who want that which we have, etc. Written at Sea, by us whom the Wicked, in scorn, call Quakers, in the second month of the yeer 1659. This being a Confirmation of so much as Francis Howgill truly published in his Book, titled, The Popish Inquisition newly erected in (New) England, etc. London: Printed by T. L. for G. Calvert, . . . 1659. 4to, pp. 120.

"Sixty-five copies printed on one side of the paper only, of which four were printed on Whitman's drawing paper. Of this reprint there are two issues, the publisher a druggist in Roxbury, Mass., thus explains the matter: 'By permission of Mr. Drake 75 copies of this pamphlet were reprinted in quarto. So far as the printing was concerned the work was fairly done and in a manner tolerably satisfactory, with the single exception of an error in the paging, but the sheets being entrusted for binding to a firm in Boston, the work was done in a manner so entirely unworkmanlike as to induce or rather compel me to destroy the entire edition with the exception of 15 copies, which were preserved to show how unfaithfully and shabbily a job can be done. Sixty copies are already destroyed, so that the two editions consist of 75 copies only.'" Sabin.

3859. Gov. Thomas Dudley's Letter to the Countess of Lincoln, March, 1631. With Explanatory Notes, By Dr. John Farmer, Corresponding Secretary of the New Hampshire Historical Society. Washington: Published by Peter Force. 1838. 8vo, pp. 19.

An interesting description of the new colony.

"Governour Dudley was one of the five undertakers of the Settlement of Massachusetts, and came over with the charter in 1630. The following letter, addressed to the Countess of Lincoln, in whose family he had been steward nine or ten years, was written nine months after his arrival, and contains the events pertaining to the colony during that period. It has never, to the knowledge of the copyist, been published entire. A part of it was printed more than a hundred years ago, and this portion of it was reprinted in 1802, in the eighth volume of the Collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society. Very material parts, it will be seen by comparison, are omitted in the printed copy. This copy is made from a MSS one, judged to be at least 180 years old. A part of it, which describes the bays and rivers, and a few lines which give an account of the Indian sachems, is missing, but the most valuable portions are preserved almost entire, and have been copied with scrupulous care in retaining not only the orthography, but the abbreviations and divisions into paragraphs." J. Farmer, Preface.

Title, 84 pp.

Translation of Title: A short account of New Netherland's situation, virtues, natural privileges and peculiar fitness for population. With some requests, representations, deductions, etc., presented for that purpose by some amateurs at different times, about the year 1661, to the Burgomasters, etc., etc.

See G. M. Asher, No. 13.

Müller thinks it was published in Amsterdam. Small 4to, 4 preliminary leaves, pp. 84.

"This book is written by a Mennonite, a certain M. V. Z. H. in behalf of some persons, probably Mennonites, imploring his assistance. It is one of the most interesting and one of the scarcest of all books on New Netherland. I found only three copies in the course of twenty years, and sold my last at 200 florins." F. Müller.

"Of all books the Dutch have left us on their American colony, none is certainly stranger than this. After the twenty-seventh page we entirely lose our way; everything is unknown to us—ideas, the very words almost, the persons the author addresses, the diction—in a word, the whole book. It is, however, an excellent source for a part of the history of the New Netherland which has not yet been written—that of the influence of parties and of their disputes on colonization.

"The hook has been written by two different persons, one of them pathetically declaiming, the other speaking frankly and simply of a set purpose earnestly pursued. It is to the first person that belong the very feeble preface and description of New Netherland and the postscript; to the second, probably the addresses sent to the burgomasters and their explanation. The second person is one of the Mennonist emigrants; the first a journalist deeply immersed in pamphlet quarrels." Asher, page 15.

4207. ———. Franz Daniel Pastorius' Beschreibung von Pennsylvanien. Nachbildung der in Frankfurt a M. im Jahre 1700 erschienen Original Ausgabe. (Motto Linum et Textrinum Vinum.) Herausgegeben vom Crefelder Verein fur wissenschaftliche Vortrage. Mit einer Einleitung von Friedrich Kapp. Crefeld: Kramer u Baum, 1884.

"The only attempt at a reissue of Pastorius was that of the late Friedrich Kapp, of Germany, who, inspired by the accounts of the bicentennial celebration in different parts of the United States, October 6, 1883, of the landing of the Crefelders in Pennsylvania, induced the Crefelder Verein to republish Pastorius's Beschreibung of 1700. To this Kapp added an introduction, which was mostly a reprint of Seidensticker's Erste Deutsche Einwanderung. The edition was a small one and the book cheaply gotten up. It is now out of print and almost unknown." Sachse.

(Latin motto.) Boston: Printed by T. Fleet, for S. Gerrish, at the lower | end of Cornhill, and D. Henchman over-against | the Brick Meeting House in Cornhill, 1726. 4to, pp. (2), iv, (2), 134, (1). Advertisement 1 page.*

"From the original manuscript of this work in the possession of P. Force, Esq., Washington, it appears that there are variations in the printed copy from the original, especially on page 116. The second paragraph in the original reads, 'So soon as the report came of Captain Lovewell's disaster fifty men from New Hampshire, well armed and with twelve days' subsistence, marched thither to bury the dead and draw off the wounded, but were so miserably terrified that in a most shameful and cowardly manner they returned without searching for the wounded or dead, or making the least discovery." H. C. Murphy.

"A tall, fine copy of this extremely rare work, so rare indeed that neither Field, Menzies, Brinley nor Barlow had a good copy." Br. Ives Catalog.

Offered by Dodd, Mead & Co., in 1906, for $165.00, with this description:

"Title mended, inner margin extended and three leaves supplied from a shorter copy. The leaf at end, headed 'Advertisement,' but really an erratum, is supplied in type facsimile."

The following is Sabin's note regarding the book: "This work, in any condition, ranks among the rarest of New England imprints, while a perfect copy with good margin is very difficult to obtain. The author was born in Cornwall, England, July, 1665, and arrived in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, July, 1686. He held many important offices of public trust with great honor, being Chief Justice of the Province at the time of his death, in December, 1726, at the age of 61. His work on the Indian wars is esteemed as the highest authority on that subject. His design in emigration was to serve the corporation for the propagation of the gospel among the Indians, as a missionary, after he had made himself acquainted with their language. Whether he ever really performed that service is uncertain."

"Of this book, written by John Ph. Boehm against the Moravians, there is up to the present time no other copy known. Harbaugh, when writing his 'Fathers of the Reformed Church,' had only seen the reply to it. It is replete with historical facts." Pennypacker, 1882.

This book, written against the Moravians by Böhm, the reformed preacher in Pennsylvania, living at Witpen Township, was the outcome of a quarrel between him and Count Zinzendorff; it is filled with early local information, not elsewhere to be found. When Harbaugh wrote his 'Fathers of the Reformed Church,' he was compelled to rely upon the reply for his knowledge of the original. The only copy known." Henkels.

John Philip Boehm arrived in America not later than 1720, and after ministering for several years to reformed congregations in Falkner Swamp, Skippack and Whitemarsh was ordained in 1729. He then took his residence at Whitepain township, Montgomery County, where Beohm's church still keeps his memory alive. Seidensticker, German Printing.

In 1763 the massacre of Indians at Paxton, Lancaster County, led to the removal of many of the Moravian Indians to Philadelphia for protection. The Paxton Boys, as they were called, resolved to march to the city and kill these Indians, and some 200 of them came as far as Germantown, where they halted. Meanwhile the city was alarmed; citizens took up arms, barricades were erected, and artillery placed in position to defend the place. But the Paxton Boys did not come. Negotiations were made with them by leading citizens of Germantown, and the strength of the invasion melted away.

"This little sketch is entirely out of print, only a few copies being preserved from a disastrous fire at the State University library, in which the edition was stored. The book is one of unusual interest and a valuable addition to the ana of Iowa. The Abbey is situated about twelve miles southwest of the city of Dubuque. In 1849 Bishop Loras, while traveling in Europe, induced the Trappists to accept the land which was then in his power to bestow, and which resulted in the founding of the Abbey as above. Prof. Perkins has given many details referring to the order both in Iowa and abroad." "Torch Press" Catalog.

4367. PERKINS, W. R.; WICK, B. L. History of the Amana Society or Community of True Inspiration. Iowa City: 1891. 8vo, pp. 94.

The account of the Amana Society, or Community of True Inspiration, which is contained in the above, is intended as an historical sketch of its origin and development to the present time. It is viewed strictly from the historical and not communistic standpoint. In the appendices are found a résumé of their work, their constitution, and an estimate of the property and list of resources and authorities consulted. The society is situated in Iowa County, Iowa, about eleven miles east of Marengo. There are at the present time seven villages and about 1,700 members. This is what remains of the great revival movement which took place in Germany in the eighteenth century. The volume is exceedingly scarce, being entirely out of print and originally issued in a very limited edition. Torch Press.

"The first edition is very rare. The so-called second edition differs only in the substitution of a new title page." Sabin.

"Dr. Peters, like most of the Church of England clergy in America at the breaking out of the Revolution, espoused the Tory side, and rendering himself, as many thought, too conspicuous in his opposition to the popular cause, was presented with a coat of tar and feathers by the good people of his parish in Connecticut, and compelled to evacuate his living. He came to England and published this book in ridicule of Connecticut." Rich.

"Contains a wonderful account of the Upper Cohoes Falls, 'where water is consolidated without frost, by pressure, by swiftness, between the pinching, sturdy rocks, to such a degree of induration that no iron crow can be forced into it.' Also a curious account of the ancient custom of courtship by bundling. The author was Dr. Samuel A. Peters, a refugee. He resided in England from 1774 to 1805, when he returned to America, and died in New York in 1826, at the age of 90." Rice Catalog.

"Sabin says that he has never sold another uncut copy." Menzies Catalog.

"On the back of title of a copy of the 1829 edition is the following note by Joel Munsell: 'This work was edited by Sherman Crosswell, who also edited the supplement. He was the son of the Rev. Henry Crosswell, then an aged Episcopal rector, and had but recently graduated from Yale. He soon after came to Albany, and was for many years joint editor with his cousin, Edwin Crosswell, of the Albany Argus. I set up nearly all the types myself, and the press work was done on a Smith hand press by James F. Babcock, afterwards editor of the New Haven Palladium. Oct., 1871. J. M.'" Manson Catalog.

4386. ———. The Rev. Samuel Peters' L. L. D. General History of Connecticut, from its first Settlement under George Fenwick to the latest Period of Amity with Great Britain prior to the Revolution; including a Description of the Country, and many curious and interesting Anecdotes. With an Appendix, pointing out the causes of the Rebellion in America together with the particular part taken by the people of Connecticut in its promotion. By a Gentleman of the Province. London: 1781. To which are added, Additions to Appendix, Notes, and Extracts from Letters, verifying many important Statements made by the Author. By Samuel Jarvis M'Cormick. New York: D. Appleton & Co., 1877. 12mo, pp. 285.

This has been called "The Lying History of Connecticut."

Stevens says: "It is not unfrequently necessary for an historian to be acquainted with a book only to be certain that it is good for nothing. Such a book is Peters' History of Connecticut, a book of not half the historical value of Knickerbocker's New York, and without any of its wit. Yet it has often been quoted by French and German authors as true history." Bibl. Historica.

one of its districts in Congress, has made a very careful study of the Mr. Phelan, who is a native of Tennessee, and now represents history of Tennessee, and in this work contributes an excellent addition to the State histories of our country. In his preface, after describing in a few sentences the development of civilization and government in Tennessee, with its processes and results, and stating that these form the real history of the State, he adds: "It is the story of this history which I have attempted to narrate without going unduly into detail, and not passing over wholly in silence the individuals who have been the factors of this law, or the occasional adventures which surround them with the golden light of mediæval romance. This story, if accurately and impartially told, the author imagines, may not be altogether without interest; showing to the outside world the justice of this State's claim to a place of honor among the commonwealths of the Union, and recalling to the minds of her children the fact that their forefathers were men of brave hearts, of pure ambition, and of great achievements." *Ann. An edition was published in London in 1810.

"Major Pike was the first explorer under the Government of the U. S. of that vast portion of the Republic now forming the States of Arkansas, Texas, and New Mexico." Sabin.

"Every student of this country's history will remember Pike as the intrepid explorer who, just after the nation had come into technical and nominal possession of the great Louisiana territory by purchase from France, carried the flag and the authority of the Republic into the wilderness. With a little company of only twenty men he braved the sufferings and dangers of a winter in the Northwest. explored the headwaters of the Mississippi, carried the news of the transfer of sovereignty to scores of trading posts, hauled down many British flags, and paved the way for understandings with the Indians.

"Pike succeeded so well in this undertaking, which occupied the period from August, 1805, to April, 1806, that he was dispatched at once on another trip to find the headwaters of the Arkansas and the Red Rivers. It was this expedition which carried him and his little company into Colorado, and which led to the accidental discovery of Pike's Peak. The discoverer called it Grand Peak, but his countrymen, with a justice not always operative in such cases, have associated his own name with it. The geographical and political results of this second journey were even more important than those of the first, for they helped to check the encroachments of the Spanish and to increase the country's knowledge of this totally unknown part of the national domain. Pike's conclusions and notes were not always accurate, but the extent of the country which he traversed and the intrepidity of his exploits entitle him to all the glory and renown he has received."

The centenary of the discovery of the mountain called Pike's Peak was celebrated September 26, 1906. The following is quoted from a newspaper notice of that event:

"Pike's Peak, Colo., Sept. 26, 1907.—The highest American military salute ever given was the brigadier general's salute of eleven guns fired this morning on the summit of Pike's Peak, nearly three miles above sea level. It was fired by the Twelfth Artillery, in honor of Brigadier General Zebulon Montgomery Pike, who in 1806, at the head of the Southwest Expedition sent out by the War Department, made the first record of the existence and location of the mountain that now bears his name.

"Incidental to the formal christening of Pike's Peak, of which the salute was a feature, there were addresses by President W. F. Slocum, of Colorado College; General Irving Hale and Mayor E. E. Nichols, of Mayon. A bronze tablet was unveiled."

Collation: Title, reverse 'The Order, Medall and Riban of the Albion Knights,' with three woodcuts of arms; Dedication to Edmund Ployden, Lord Proprietor, Earl Palatine, Governour and Captain Generall of the Province of New Albion, at the end dated 'Middleboro this 5 of Decemb. 1648,' and signed 'Beauchamp Plantagenet," pp. 3-8. Text, pp. 9-32.

"The country described includes portions of Delaware, New Jersey, and Long Island. In the dedication of this extremely rare tract Plantagenet refers to 'the two former books printed of Albion, 1737 and 1642.' No copy has been found of the former, and even the title of it seems to be unknown; but the latter is undoubtedly the 'former Description reprinted,' mentioned in Plantagenet's title page, and comprising Chapter 3, 'The Description of Master Robert Evelin and 13 witnesses, printed 7 years since and now reprinted.'" Sabin.

This book was reprinted by Peter Force, Washington, 1837. 8vo, pp. 37. Force's Tracts, Vol. 2, No. 7.

(Title): A short and concise plan intended as a mutual agreement for lessening the labor and difficulty of all kinds of artisans by a common company or colony, (under the protection of their High Mightinesses the States General of the United Netherlands, and especially under the favourable authority of the Worshipful Magistracy of the City of Amsterdam) to be founded on South River in New Netherland; consisting of Husbandmen, Mariners, Workmen of all necessary trades, the masters of necessary arts and sciences, Confiding in the privileges granted by the said Right Worshipful to that end, (so as here will be found). Composed by Cornelis Plockhoy of Zierikzee for himself and other lovers of New Netherland.

"The advantages were an hundred guilders to every family joining the company of Cornelis Plockhoy. This company was to consist of 24 families only. Each one was to work six hours every day for the Commonwealth. The products of this labor were to be distributed in equal portions to all persons above twenty years—the remainder of their time was left to the private industry of the individuals." G. M. Asher, Essay on Dutch Books.

Governor Pennypacker says of this very scarce book: "Plockhoy, the author, and his little Mennonite colony lived at Horekill, on the Delaware, in peace with the Indians for years. In 1664 Sir Robert Carr destroyed the settlement and carried off all of the property (even to a nail). What became of the people is unknown, but thirty years later Plockhoy, old, blind, and poor, wandered with his wife to Germantown. The settlers there gave him a lot, built him a little house, planted a tree in front of it and made him a garden. There he ended his days. This book being the first concerning a settlement on the Delaware by a man who lived and died here, is the very corner-stone of the history and literature of Pennsylvania, Delaware, and New Jersey. Superlatively rare. Only two copies known to Müller of Amsterdam."

Complete copies have the Prickel Vaersen or Spurring Verses. Except in Barlow, there seems to be no record of any sale.

"Of the greatest rarity. It was purchased by Gov. Pennypacker at the Barlow sale. The book was so rare and so little known that it skipped the eye of the gentleman who catalogued the library, as well as the eyes of all the collectors and librarians and dealers who attended the sale. Gov. Pennypacker noticed it, knew it, and purchased it, thereby securing the rarest work on early New York and Philadelphia." Henkels.

A copy is offered for sale in Fred. Müller's catalogue in 1872, but the price is not stated. Mr. Müller says of it: "The copy occurring in Mr. Meulman's Collection of Dutch Pamphlets was the second I ever heard of. The copy Asher described was the first I found, and was sold to Mr. Brockhaus, of Leipzig." Müller.

Sold: Barlow, 1890, green levt, mo, extra, glt, unct, by Bedford, 80.00; Pennypacker, 1906, the Barlow copy (at which sale Mr. P. bought it), 420.00.

Boston: N. E. | Printed by Kneeland & Green for S. Gerrish, | 1736. | Sm. 8vo.*

Collation: Title and dedication, 5 leaves; Preface, pp. xi, (1); List of Subscribers, pp. 20; Introduction, pp. 104; Part I. Title, and pp. 80; Part II. Title, and pp. 83-250; Additions, pp. 251-254.

An important work on the most interesting period of New England History. Vol. 1 brings the chronology down to September 7, 1630.

Nearly twenty years after, the work was resumed under the following title:

4494. ———. Annals of New England. By Thomas Prince, A.M. Vol. II. Numb. 1. Boston: Printed and Sold by S. Kneeland in Queen Street, and by J. and T. Leverett in Cornhill. (Price Six Pence Lawful Money each Number.) (1755). 8vo, pp. 32 and covers. Vol. II. Numb. II. Boston: Printed by B. Edes and J. Gill, in Kingstreet for S. Kneeland in Queen Street, and for J. and T. Leverett in Cornhill. (1755.) Pp. 33-64 and covers. Vol. II. Numb. III. (Ibid 1755). Pp. 65-96 and covers.

"These three numbers, which cover the period from September 28, 1630, to August 5, 1633, breaking off in the middle of a sentence, comprise all that were ever published and are very rare. The covers contain several advertisements and notes, and a circular soliciting information. This portion of the second volume was reprinted in the Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., 2d Ser., Vol. 7." Sabin.

"It was the author's intention to have brought his history down to 1730, but he only reached to 1633. He spent much time upon the introductory epitome, which begins at the creation. Had he confined himself to New England and finished his work it would have been of incalculable value." Rich, Bibl. Amer. Nova.

Portrait of William Penn in first volume, from the original bust in the Loganian Library in Philadelphia, and also a map of Pennsylvania.

It is said that the materials for this book were largely collected by Caleb Pusey, a Quaker, who died in 1776.

Proud was very painstaking. He wrote this book four times, with variations and some chapters five or six times. In his diaries are to be found whole chapters of the book. The money for its publication was loaned to him.

No copy of this, so far as can be learned, has ever appeared in a catalogue in this country. It was unknown to Sabin and other bibliographers, and is undoubtedly unique.

This pamphlet was sold in a volume of pamphlets at the Earl of Sheffield's library sale at London in 1907.

4511. ———. Memorial presented to His Grace My Lord the Duke of Newcastle, Chamberlain of His Majesty King George, &c, and Secretary of State: upon the present condition of Carolina, and the Means of its Amelioration: by Jean Pierre Purry, of Neufchatel, Switzerland. Privately Printed. Augusta, Georgia. (J. H. Estill, Printer, Savannah, Georgia.) 1880. Sm 4to, pp. 24.

4512. A Letter from South Carolina giving an Account of the Soil, Air, Product, &c, of that Province. 2d edition. London: 1732. 8vo.

Sold: Stone, 1897, clf, 3.75.

4513. ———. A Description | of the | Province | of South Carolina, | Drawn up at | Charles Town, in September, 1731. | Translated from Mr. Purry's Original Treatise, in French, and published in | the Gentleman's Magazine, for August, September, and October, 1732. | Washington City: | Printed by Peter Force. | 1837. 8vo, pp. 16.

"It is signed at the end by John Peter Purry, of Neufchatel; James Richard, of Geneva; Abraham Meuron, of St. Sulpy, in the County of Neufchatel; Henry Raymond, of St. Sulpy. Forms No. 11 of Force's Tracts, Vol. 2. Also reprinted in Carroll's Hist. Coll. So. Carolina, 11.

"Mr. Rich (Bibliotheca Americana Nova, 1, 46), in a note referring to the French treatise, from which the translation in the Gentleman's Magazine was made, remarks that 'This could have hardly been printed before 1732, which induces a belief that Captain Purry published another tract on the subject in 1730 or thereabouts.'" Sabin.

"It may not be disagreeable in this place to inform our readers that Mr. Purry, on his return to Swisserland with this account of Carolina, soon prevailed on many industrious persons and their families, to the number of about 400, to go with him. On the 11th of this month (August, 1732) they embarked at Calais, in France, on board two English ships, which arrived off Dover the next day, and are now sailed on their voyage. Mr. Bignion, their minister, came to London and received Episcopal ordination, so that the reflections which some have cast on the religion of these people are unjustly founded."

4514. PURVIANCE, ROBERT. A Narrative of Events which Occurred in Baltimore Town during the Revolutionary War. To which are appended various Documents and Letters, the greater part of which have never been heretofore published. Baltimore: Printed by Jos. Robinson. 1849. 12mo, pp. (2), 231.*

These papers were originally read before the Maryland Historical Society, January, 1847. The papers, belonging to the father of the compiler, were found in the Custom House in a vast collection of old Revolutionary pamphlets.
